

Name: Diederik Bruggink
Job Title: Senior Business Leader
Company: MasterCard
Country: Belgium

Professional background:

Diederik Bruggink has been active in the payments business since 1999. He joined MasterCard in 2008.

As a Senior Business Leader within MasterCard's Global Debit Team, Diederik's main area of interest is the development of Retail Banking payment solutions that aims at delivering additional value for MasterCard's Retail Banking Clients.

Diederik joined MasterCard from ABN AMRO, where, as a Vice President he was concerned with the group's involvement in Market Infrastructure developments for Payments & Cards. He coordinated the external position of the Bank with key internal stakeholders. He acted as a Senior Advisor on payment related strategic topics to internal key and senior management, and he participated as subject matter expert in projects throughout the Bank. One of the key objectives was the Single Euro Payment Area and its impact on the bank's payment franchise. Diederik was one of the key authors of the first three editions of the World Payments Report.

Before joining ABN AMRO, Diederik was Managing Consultant Cards at Capgemini Global Financial Services where he gained broad experience as Project Manager and as Business/Strategy Consultant within several international financial institutions. He joined Capgemini in 1996.

Diederik holds a master degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Twente in the Netherlands.

Diederik is married and he has two daughters. He lives in Belgium.